

TWO DIXON FIREMEN FOUGHT ALONE AND WON THEIR BATTLE

Chief Coffey and Former Chief Graff Got 1923 Convention.

Backed with only the invitation of the Dixon city officials Fire Chief Tom Coffey and former Chief Andrew J. Graff waged a hard fight to land the 1923 convention of the Illinois Firemen's Association for this city, the success of which battle was told in last evening's Telegraph's story that the next convention would be held in Dixon.

The Aurora delegation had invitations from fifteen organizations in that city; Ottawa was there with ten requests for the next meeting and Herrin had eight—and against that array the two Dixon men were backed only by the invitation of the city officials and their assurance that they would see the convention taken care of. The support promised by the Chamber of Commerce, according to Mayor Smith and Chief Coffey, was withdrawn at the last minute.

Three Ballots Needed.
Three ballots were necessary to swing the convention to Dixon, and a stirring address on the floor of the convention by former Chief A. J. Graff did much to influence the vote in favor of this city. The vote on the three ballots were:

Aurora	96	80	98
Dixon	90	115	187
Ottawa	58	88
Herrin	39

Officers Elected.

Officers elected by the convention were:
President—Simon Kellerman, Jr., Edwardsville.
First Vice President—Mayor A. W. Hodge, Galena.
Secretary—Roy W. Alsip, Champaign.
Treasurer—F. E. Danner, Mt. Pulaski.
Historian—E. W. Wheeler, Mt. Olive.

Delegates to national convention—Thomas F. Fay, fire chief at the University of Illinois, Urbana, and E. H. Burkhardt, Sandwich.

Annual Meeting of Country Club Held Thursday Evening

The Dixon Country club held its annual business meeting and election of officers, preceded by a dinner, at the Y. M. C. A. last evening.
A. A. Rowland, H. C. Pittney and J. Dor Kinderen were elected to succeed the three retiring directors, Bradford Britton, Jack Forest and Max Eichler.

The constitution was amended, eliminating guest privileges at the club and establishing a ground fee of $1 a day for visitors and guests of members.
President O. L. Rogers presided at the meeting. He called for the reports of the various committees and they were read to the assemblage. The following committee reports were heard:

Women's Sports Committee, Miss Dement.
House Committee—Mrs. J. M. Batchelder.
Membership Committee—Miss Ingraham.
Bowling Committee—A. A. Rowland.
Parties—Geo. Hawley.
Secretary's Report—J. L. DerKinderen.
Treasurer's Report—John L. Davies.

Reports Farmers Are Selling Hogs

Dr. I. N. Habecker returned last evening from a business trip to Streator in the interest of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Dr. Habecker says there are not many hogs left in this part of the state as farmers are feeding their grain and getting their hogs to market as rapidly as possible. He also says that there is very little sickness among live stock.

Ford Says He Will Buy France's Navy

Washington, Jan. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—The French government has approached Henry Ford by cable asking if he would consider the purchase of battleships. In announcing the request here today, Mr. Ford said he had replied that unless he could buy the entire French navy, he would not be interested in job lots. No answer to his cable had been received here today.

FIRST LIQUOR CASES CALLED UP IN COURTS

Albert Knoll Released on Writ of Habeas Corpus Today.

The first of the liquor cases which resulted from the raid conducted Tuesday evening under the direction of the state's attorney's office, started this morning. Attorney Albert H. Hannsen, who appeared for Albert Knoll, who admitted Tuesday evening that he had disposed of his still to Black Joe, was the first case to be called.

Knoll in default of bonds amounting to $800 on charges of possessing and selling intoxicating liquor, was remanded to the county jail Tuesday evening, following his preliminary hearing. His attorney instituted habeas corpus proceedings in the circuit court before Judge Oscar E. Heard this morning and secured his release. The court held that in the search of the Knoll home no liquor was found as evidence and the man was liberated.

Fifteen minutes later State's Attorney Mark C. Keller, after filing information in the county court against Knoll, turned a warrant over to the sheriff for the arrest of the defendant. However, at an early hour this afternoon Knoll had not been located and was still at large.

Mattie Parker, colored, who was released Tuesday evening and her case continued until this morning, was remanded to the county jail. Information was filed in the county court charging her with having in her possession and selling liquor and Judge John B. Crabtree fixed her bonds at $600.

None of the other parties taken in Tuesday night's raid will appear before Monday morning. The case against Deputy Sheriff John F. Kennedy of Nelson, is set for hearing Tuesday morning. The records at the office of the county clerk, show that Kennedy was appointed a deputy sheriff by Sheriff Frank Schoenholtz, March 18, 1921, and has served in that capacity since.

SAYS HUSBAND FORCED HER TO TAKE POISON AT POINT OF A KNIFE

American Violiniste in Paris Makes Sensa- tional Charge.

Paris, Jan. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Mrs. Audrey Creighton Ryan, better known as Miss Audrey Creighton, California violinist and prize winner at the American Conservatory of Music in Fontainebleau, is reported dying in the American hospital at Neuilly from the results of swallowing three poison tablets.

Her husband, Thomas Stewart Ryan, who is attached to the Paris staff of the Chicago Tribune, was arrested on a charge of administering the tablets to her, under the threat to kill her with a knife unless she swallowed them. Later he is said to have stabbed himself, but not seriously.

According to the story told to the police by the young woman's mother, Ryan returned to Paris unexpectedly on Wednesday and visited her and his wife. He told his wife that he was willing to facilitate a divorce, but wished her to go with him for a farewell dinner.

Mrs. Ryan accompanied her husband to his hotel after the dinner, when, according to a statement by the young woman to authorities, her husband accused her of infidelity and threatened her at the point of a knife to swallow the poison.

Ryan accompanied his wife to the Cochin hospital, from which she was later removed to Neuilly. He has been wounded in the neck, the cut requiring several stitches to close, but the doctors reported it was not serious.
Ryan told his friends that his wife's statements to the authorities were untrue and surrendered to the police when he found they were searching for him. Mrs. Ryan was reported as having intended to marry an American named Mac Coy, after securing a divorce from Ryan.

DIXON ELKS TO BACK SALVATION ARMY FUND CAMPAIGN IN LEE CO.

Campaign Will Be Started Next Week; For Char- ity Work.

At the request of the Salvation Army Advisory Board the Dixon lodge of Elks will conduct a campaign next week to raise a fund of $2,000, one-half of which will be used to assist the Salvation Army in its emergency relief work in Illinois and to maintain its rescue and industrial homes, etc., in this state.

On account of the unemployment situation the army is hard pressed for funds, it is announced, to meet the many calls made for assistance. The local Salvation Army Advisory Board is: President, Louis Pitcher; Vice President, Henry S. Dixon; Secretary, W. F. Hogan; Treasurer, A. P. Armstrong, and E. F. Downing, J. B. Crabtree, E. B. Raymond, Edward Valle, Grover Gehant, Sherwood Dixon, Charles Anderson, Theo. J. Miller, Jr., Charles E. Miller, Thomas Young, William Nixon, A. W. Leland and Walter Watkins.

Part of Fund Remains.
This board met at the call of President Pitcher and unanimously approved the plan to conduct the campaign and felt that Dixon should contribute a substantial sum toward this worthy work. At the suggestion of Mr. Leland it was decided to put the quota at $2,000, all over the $1,000 desired by the Army to be used in doing charitable work in this vicinity. This program was submitted to the Elks and was endorsed and accepted by the lodge, a campaign committee being appointed. The executive committee for the work will be Louis Pitcher, A. W. Leland and Charles Miller, who selected Thomas Young as general chairman and E. R. Oxman as general secretary.

Details of the campaign organization will be announced soon. The Elks started the movement by subscribing $100 and the American Legion, Women's Auxiliary, high school and other local institutions will co-operate in the appeal.

Burch's Case May Go to Jury Before Night; Last Pleas

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Jan. 13.—Final arguments to the jury in the case of Arthur O. Burch, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, were to begin this morning, and there was a possibility the jury would go out tonight.

The arguments for the defense were concluded yesterday by Paul V. Schenck, chief counsel for Burch, and Thomas L. Woolwine, district attorney, alone remained to speak for the prosecution. Woolwine said he hoped to finish early this afternoon.

Mr. Schenck told the jury evidence offered in support of the defense theory that Burch was of unsound mind constituted "a perfect picture of insanity," and declared the state had "exploded its own case so far as motive was concerned," when it contended Burch killed Kennedy at the instigation of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, jointly indicted with Burch for the alleged crime. Mr. Schenck also advanced the theory that Kennedy had been killed by "two mysterious men."

Millionaire Winner of $5; Best Motto

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Jan. 13.—Julius Rosenwald, Chicago merchant, philanthropist, and many times a millionaire, today was $5 richer when his favorite motto, a saying of Robert Ingersoll's, won a prize in a Chicago newspaper's daily motto contest.

The motto was "I would rather be a beggar and spend my money like a king than a king and spend my money like a beggar."
Mr. Rosenwald has contributed millions of dollars to charitable and philanthropic enterprises in recent years.

DAUGHTERS FACING ARREST, CO. TREAS. TOOK LIFE LAST EVE

Well Known Effingham Co. Official Broke Un- der the Shame.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., Jan. 13.—Arrest of his two daughters on charges of grand larceny was believed here today to have caused the death from shooting last night of Amos B. Munday, county treasurer of Effingham county, at his home in Effingham. Requisitions for the return of his daughters to Ohio to stand trial, were refused by Governor Small yesterday.

Mr. Munday, who is held in very high repute in the county of Effingham, was found at his home Wednesday, unconscious. A revolver was found at his side. He died last night without regaining consciousness, and without leaving any explanation, it is said, to explain his action. His accounts as county treasurer are said to be in good condition.

Friends in Effingham lay Mr. Munday's action, it is said to the trouble his two daughters, Cleo and Beulah, had gotten into last October.

Small Denied Plea.
They were charged with keeping an automobile that had belonged to a Mr. Wolfe of Ohio, who had been a suitor of Cleo's. A formal charge against them was lodged in Ohio and requisitions asked to bring them to Ohio to answer the charge. Defense of the girls was so good, however, that Governor Small refused to honor the requisitions.

The daughters of Mr. Munday said that Wolfe had made a gift of the automobile after a long friendship, and "without any strings attached to it," according to evidence upon which Governor Small refused the requisition. When Mr. Munday's daughter, Cleo, refused his further advances, he demanded the automobile back.

Governor Small based his refusal on the ground that no offense had been committed in Ohio by the girls, and that he doubted that any offense had been committed at all.

Says Amendment Will Hurt Women's Cause

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Jan. 13.—Enactment of the proposed constitutional amendment insuring equality for women was opposed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement issued today on the ground that it would result in destruction of standards and safeguards now established for the protection of women in industry. Numerous attorneys of "standing and experience" hold that this would be the case, Mr. Gompers asserted.

"If such a blanket amendment placing women on absolutely equality with men were to be adopted," Mr. Gompers said, "the employers of the country would proceed at once to operate under the amendment. Beneficial, hard won laws would be destroyed under the proposed amendment."

CONVICT TOOK WIFE TO GAIN HIS FREEDOM

Unusual Case Report- ed Today from Jef- ferson City.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 13.—Frank Jandro, convict, married to obtain his freedom and not for love, according to his statement following the announcement that his wife, formerly Mrs. Mayme Wadley, had applied for an annulment of the marriage when she learned her husband was a convict serving a two-year sentence in the state prison here for jail breaking.

Jandro, prison authorities say, will serve his full term. His home is in Brooklyn, N. Y. Jandro said he wanted to get married, as he had falsely told prison authorities he was a married man, and intending to apply for a parole, thought it would be well for him to be able to produce a wife.

Jandro was engaged as a chauffeur for prison officials. His acquaintance with Mrs. Wadley, a clerk in the Federal building, developed while he was allowed to wear civilian clothing. Frequent automobile trips, Jandro said, enabled him to win a wife.

The marriage is the first of its kind on record here, prison authorities say, explaining that marriages to convicts often result from courtship while men are in prison, but marriages while a convict is serving a sentence, are out of the ordinary.

Says Dixie Girls Are Better Misses

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New Orleans, La., Jan. 13.—Girls of Dixie wear longer skirts, drink less liquor, smoke fewer cigarettes and hold fewer "petting parties" than girls in other sections of the country. Dr. Valeria H. Parker of the United States Inter-Departmental Social and Hygiene Board declared in an address before the public health institute here.

Dr. Parker said she based her opinion of the southern girl on statistics collected by representatives of the department. She asserted that of 16,000 cases of girl delinquents investigated by the department, the southern girl made the best showing.

FATHER BENNETT IS DEAD; WELL KNOWN IN THIS VICINITY

Former Priest at Sterling Died Yesterday at Aurora.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Aurora, Ill., Jan. 13.—Bishop Muldoon will preach the funeral sermon and over 100 priests from the central west will attend the funeral here on Monday morning of the late James J. Bennett, vicar general of the Rockford diocese.

BULLETIN
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Aurora, Ill., Jan. 13.—Bishop Muldoon will preach the funeral sermon and over 100 priests from the central west will attend the funeral here on Monday morning of the late James J. Bennett, vicar general of the Rockford diocese.

Sterling, Jan. 12.—The Rt. Rev. Monsignor James J. Bennett, vicar general of the Rockford diocese, for 16 years the beloved pastor of the St. Mary's Catholic church of Sterling, died at the St. Charles hospital at Aurora at 1:50 o'clock this afternoon. He had been critically ill for several months.

Father Bennett, who is 78 years old and one of the best known and most highly esteemed priests in the state of Illinois, had been in a dying condition for several days, but had shown wonderful vitality. In St. Mary's church in Aurora where he had been the irremovable rector until he resigned several years ago, his former parishioners were asked on Tuesday to offer up prayers for the repose of his soul when word came from the hospital that his death was expected at any moment.

The veteran priest had served the St. Charles hospital as chaplain for about three years. It was shortly after he went to the hospital that word came that he had been given the papal honor of monsignor.

Prior to going to St. Charles hospital as chaplain, Father Bennett was pastor of the St. Mary's parish in Aurora for nearly 10 years, having been removed as pastor of the St. Mary's parish in Sterling the latter part of May, 1909 after having served here as pastor for about 16 years.

The arrangements for the funeral of Father Bennett are wholly in the hands of Bishop Muldoon of Rockford. The request for his burial in the Calvary cemetery in Sterling will be complied with, but further than that no definite announcements can be made at this time.

NEWBERRY CASE IS NOW HISTORY FOLLOWING VOTE

By Vote of 46 to 41 Senate Seated Him Last Evening.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Jan. 13.—The Newberry case in the formal records of the senate had passed into history today. The senate chamber, with that body in recess after the strain of battle ended by its 46 to 41 vote yesterday that the senatorial choice of the state of Michigan in the 1918 election, Truman H. Newberry, was entitled to sit in the senate, was strangely silent. The more than three years of uncertainty and suspense resulting from the contest of the senate by Henry Ford, Senator Newberry's defeated opponent in the election, ended with the final vote at 6:28 p. m.

Supporters of the resolution sponsored by republican leaders declaring the Michigan senator entitled to his seat were all republicans; nine senators of that party joined 32 democrats in opposition. Three senators were paired for and three against the resolution and three did not vote.

The resolution as adopted carried an amendment by Senator Willis, republican of Ohio, by which the senate severely condemned and disapproved excessive campaign expenditures, "as harmful to the honor and dignity of the senate and dangerous to the perpetuity of a free government." The amendment was accepted by the Newberry supporters as a substitute for the original clause declaring unfounded the charges involved in the Ford contest, that the Michigan senator was not entitled to his seat, because of campaign expenditures.

Senator Newberry accepted the action of the senate in a subsequent statement as a "complete vindication of myself and all concerned."

Directors of Hill School Determined to Stop Marauders

The board of trustees of the Hill school have formed a vigilance committee, outlined a program of action, and have organized to carry out that program. The organization of the vigilance committee was brought about following the discovery of several cases of breaking into and ransacking the school building which is situated about two miles west of the city on the Rock Island road.
Monday morning when the teacher and pupils gathered at the building the interior had the appearance of a camp ground. It was evident from the appearance of things that some persons had spent a night and a day in the building. The desks had been ransacked and contents strewn about the room on the floor. The matter was called to the attention of the directors, and the organization resulted with a plan of putting a stop to any further depredations about the school property.

BRIAND IS NOT IN DISFAVOR IN GOVT. CHAMBER

Poincare, Slated His Successor, Faces Opposition.

BULLETIN
Washington, Jan. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—President Millerand of France, has directed M. Sarraut, head of the French delegation to continue in that capacity until the end of the Washington conference. Instructions to this effect were received today in a telegram from M. Briand, retiring French Premier, who continues under French procedure to exercise the functions of his office until his successor takes up his duties.

Paris, Jan. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Raymond Poincare, former president of France, was seeking today to form a cabinet to succeed that under Aristide Briand which resigned yesterday. The prevailing impression in political circles was that he would complete his task and would submit his list of ministers to President Millerand for approval early this afternoon.

Briand Still in Favor
The manner of M. Briand's dramatic exit, while on the apparent verge of an overwhelming vote of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies, has caused a certain reaction in his favor, and M. Poincare's task is augmented by a strong opposition in parliament. Many members hold that President Millerand, according to constitutional practice should invite M. Briand to resume power with another combination of ministers, inasmuch as he was not beaten by a vote in parliament. M. Briand, however, stated that his resignation was "absolutely final." In accordance with custom, the president has asked the members of the Briand cabinet to conduct their department until a new ministry can be formed.

M. Millerand and Poincare, in a conversation last night decided that, if the latter formed a ministry, the conference broken off at Cannes would be resumed by the new premier after an understanding had been reached between the heads of the governments of the allied powers.
If successful in forming a ministry, M. Poincare is expected at an early date, to make a declaration in the Chamber of Deputies outlining the policy he intends to follow and asking for a vote of confidence. It is generally expected that his policy will involve modifications in what has been arranged at Cannes.

LLOYD GEORGE LEAVES
Cannes, Jan. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Minister Lloyd George will leave Cannes for London at 7 o'clock this evening. He may, it is stated, stop in Paris en route to confer with President Millerand and M. Poincare, who is forming a cabinet to succeed the Briand ministry.

TEXT OF TREATY
Paris, Jan. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—The text of the proposed Anglo-French treaty, brought to Paris by M. Briand from Cannes was made public today. It provides that Great Britain shall come immediately to the aid of France in case of direct or provoked aggression by Germany against French territory.

Extra Police Are Withdrawn Today in Union Stock Yard

By Associated Press Leased Wire

TWENTY BOWLERS ON ALLEYS IN TOURNAY GAMES LAST EVENING

Great Interest and Big Scores Marked First of Meetings.

STANDING OF THE TEAMS.

Vaughn	2421
Gonnerman	2332
Thompson	2202
Schuele	2140

Twenty bowlers started off the A Class league in real style last evening and hung up some pretty classy scores. Rev. Simpson carried off the high score honors with 242 to his credit. Mr. Cleidon on an opposing team tried hard to overcome this lead but not having his glasses with him had a difficult time picking out the head pin, however, he binged out a perfect 236.

In the first game Thompson's team finished with a lead of 62 pins, and in the second game Vaughn's artists walked away with 89 to the good.

FURIOUS GAMES IN JUNIOR "B" B. B. TOURNAY

Bulldogs Maintained Spotless Record in Close Game.

The Junior B basketball teams that played off their tied games Thursday afternoon staged two fiery contests that were close all the way through and with the winning team only one point to the good at the finish.

The Souphounds and Foxhounds took the floor for the first game and they played fast and furious, the Souphounds finally coming out ahead, 5-4. Xeno O'Malley did the scoring, or most of it for the Souphounds making 4 free throws, Capt. Schrock getting the other point. Shauls, after a vacation for several months, came back strong and tossed in two field goals.

Souphounds—Schrock, Capt., Kinney, E. Sullivan, E. O'Malley, Foxhounds—Wilson, Capt., Shauls, Flannigan, Brookner, Reagan. Referee—Reagan and Forrester. Scorer—G. O'Malley.

The Bull Dog-Terrier contest was another strenuous affair which demonstrated the superiority of the Bull Dogs, although the Terriers sure made them step to keep ahead, and then winning by but one point the score being, 4-3. This gives the Bull Dogs a spotless record so far, winning nine games without one lost.

Warley made three points and Kennedy one for the Bull Dogs and Edwards two and Joyce one for the Terriers.

Bull Dogs—Kennedy, Capt., Snow, Worley. Terriers—Rogers, Capt., Joyce, Swin, Edwards. Referee—Krug and Buckingham. Scorer—G. O'Malley. 912

TORNADOS TOOK TWO; BUT LOST LAST AND MATCH

Thunderbolts Turned on Them in Final Contest.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Jan. 13.—Cathow today is Friday, the 13th Thomas Cathow today is Friday, the 13th. The Thunderbolts, who police say, confessed he killed his sister in law, Mrs. Betty Sharples, obtained a postponement of his trial until Jan. 20. His lawyer asked the continuance.

Cathow signed a statement after his arrest saying he killed Mrs. Sharples and stole $50 from her after she had given him breakfast and offered him a home and aid while he was seeking work.

After winning two games in the volleyball tournament Thursday evening the Tornados dropped the third and lost the third and lost the match with this game, 35-40. The first two games were the hottest for sometime and close enough to be interesting from start to finish. The Tornados started out with a rush and kept the lead to the end which was 15-13. The second game went the same was 15-12 and in the third the Thunderbolts, tired of getting beaten turned on their opponents, smote them hip and thigh, demoralized them completely and took the game, 15-5.

Tornados—Smith, Capt., Der Kinderen, Forman, Hirsch, Lancaster. Thunderbolts—Stearns, Capt., Lord, Hiller, Hanson. Referee—Wilson. Scorer—Murphy.
MADE THE COLUMN.
Hurray. Did you notice me made the scandal column? Our hat is now too small, although everything was not strictly according to Hoyle. Thanks, Conductress, thanks.

LIVE NEWS FROM DEMENTTOWN

Always Fresh and Wholesome "A LIVE TOWN OF OUR OWN"

"A wise man taints his hook with inquiry, while the fool baits his with impatience."

Friday, the 13th. What wonder arguments are held because of this day falling on the 13th. We met three persons on the Avenue this morning who said they were always lucky on Friday, and when that day came on the 13th, they were more lucky.

Miss Buckaloo, of the plow company, said: "I began my duties in this office on Friday 13th (no matter how long ago) and you see I must have made good for a 1 am still with the company and on Friday the 13th."

Committee member McIntyre said Friday was always his lucky day. And another man said that he knew Friday was his lucky day, because for the past year or more his knee-in-law wrote that she would arrive here on Friday, but every time something happened so that her visit was postponed—so he says he considered himself lucky.

Mrs. Harry C. Warner was on the Avenue this morning. She boarded No. 18 for the east, presumably, Chicago. Some fellow remarked this morning when Conductor Dewey stepped from No. 801, that it was a soft job, being conductor on a passenger train.

Now, just let's see how soft such a job is:

Ed. Dewey lives about two miles east of Sterling, on a small farm. To get in town for his train he must get out of bed at 5 o'clock; he milks two cows; he feeds hogs; he eats his breakfast.

Then he walks a half mile to catch a car, unless a friend passes and takes him to the city. He reports at the station at 7:30 o'clock and must be ready to pull out on 8:01 at 7:50, arriving in Dixon about 8:15 o'clock. Now, is that so soft? Why some of us are sound asleep at the hour Ed. Dewey crawls out. On his run to South Pekin he walks practically all the time. Because he walks through his train between every station.

Mrs. Carl Sorbie was on the Avenue Thursday calling on her old friends. Agent C. G. Shepherd and wife will go to Chicago tomorrow. Mr. Shepherd on company business and Mrs. Shepherd to do some shopping.

Mrs. Hugh Curran is visiting friends in Chicago.

Frank Weiser of the Public Supply Co. and Pete Phalen of the Central freight office are going to pull off a wrestling bout one of these fine days.

If Pete's back holds out, he hopes to get the best of the West Brooklyn wild cat.

of Happiness in Married Life." Many carnal voyages are lately storm-swept. In some states statistics prove that one marriage out of three leads to the divorce court. A wholesome and helpful message on a practical subject.

The Mission Band will meet at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

6:30 p. m. Keystone League meeting. "God in Our Lives." Gal. 5:15-25. Leon Beckingham and Rachel Bush leaders. Plan to attend the prayer band meeting at 6:15.

Rev. Unangst will meet the boys and girls at the same time and tell them about the time "When the Sky Became Dry Land and the Sky Rained Bread." You will be sorry if you miss this meeting.

OPPORTUNITY—
They do me wrong who say I come no more When once I knock and fail to find you in;
For every day I stand outside your door,
And bid you wake and rise to fight and win.

Wait not your precious chances passed away,
Weep not for golden ages on the wane;
Each night I burn the records of the day,
At sunrise every soul is born again.

Laugh like a boy at splendors that have sped,
To vanished joys be blind and deaf and dumb,
My judgments seal the dead past with its dead,
But never bind a moment yet to come.

Though deep in mire, writing not your hands and weep,
I lend my arm to all who say: "I can,"
No shamefaced outcast ever sank so deep,
But he might rise and be again a man.

—Walter Malone.

HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY

M. E. CHURCH—
The Home Missionary society of the M. E. church held a meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. A. H. Nichols at her pleasant home, 618 Galena avenue, with thirty-seven in attendance.
Mrs. Morris had charge of the devotionals. The regular business of the society was then transacted.

An appeal for warm clothing and other necessities will be answered by the society.

Mrs. Pope, the tithing superintendent, read an interesting story, "Her Letter Self."

The society was given a special invitation to attend the Y. P. M. S. thank offering day exercises, the date to be given later.

Three V. trola selections were much enjoyed.

Mrs. Kirby Reed then gave a paper on "Immigrants," her paper showing much thought and study.

The next meeting of the society will be held in February with Mrs. Carl Buchner.

Dainty refreshments were then served, Mesdames Harned and Anderson pouring.

YATES-BOEHME

The marriage of Miss Myrtle Yates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Yates of Pennsylvania, and William Boehme, son of Mrs. M. Boehme, of Dixon, was quietly solemnized by Rev. G. H. Putnam yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the parsonage to the West Side Congregational church. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Burra.

The bride was charmingly attired in a green wool suit, trimmed in fur, and wore a satin hat.

After the ceremony the party returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller where a group of relatives greeted them with congratulations, a shower of rice, etc.

At 6 o'clock a tempting wedding supper was served, the decorations of cut flowers and ferns being most attractive.

The bride and groom are very popular young people and respected by many friends who wish them worlds of happiness and prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. Boehme will make their home in Dixon.
Many beautiful gifts were received from relatives and friends.
The groom has for four years been in the employ of Ed. Haas.

ST. JAMES' MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The members of the St. James Missionary Society held a meeting yesterday at the beautiful country home of Mrs. Ida Burkett, with twenty-five present. There was one guest, Mrs. Glenn White of White, S. D. Mr. and Mrs. White are here on their honeymoon. She was before her marriage, Miss Florence Atkinson, her home being in this community.

The delicious scrumptious dinner at noon was much enjoyed.

The program given after the dinner was opened with a song and this was followed with Scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. Geisler.

Mrs. Royer gave the Bible lesson, also the lesson study, being assisted in the latter by other members of the society.

During the business session then held it was decided to educate two native students in India, the society to take care of one and Mrs. Martha Shippert to take care of another.

Mrs. Martha Shippert gave an enjoyable reading.

The next meeting of the society will be held with Mrs. Emma Geisler.

The society decided to hold a cake sale on Jan. 21st.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED FOR CHURCH

At a business meeting of the Senior choir of St. Paul's Lutheran church Thursday evening, the following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. Maurice Rosbrook.
Vice President—Mrs. Avery Mangas.
Secretary—Miss Florence Rudolph.
Treasurer—Mrs. Alois Dogweiler.

A social committee was also elected as follows: Miss Eva Peterson, chairman; Mrs. Harry Emcort, and Messrs. Meri Hirsch and James Schrock.

After the election, the Young People's and Senior choirs marched to the church parlors where tempting refreshments were served. Harold Boyer, assisted by Herbert Bollman, Mrs. George Eichenberg and Mrs. Austin George had charge of the refreshments, which were enjoyed by all. After a rising vote of appreciation for the efforts of Mr. Boyer and his assistants, the choirs dispersed, having had a delightful evening.

PRACTICAL CLUB HELD INTERESTING MEETING

A very interesting meeting of the Practical club was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Klempner Tuesday afternoon with a good attendance. New Year's resolutions were given by each member of the club.

Mrs. W. J. Worsley gave the entertaining paper of the afternoon.

Tempting refreshments were served by the hostess. The music from the Victrola was also enjoyed.

The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. Ahrens.

Another Panel of Jurors for "Fatty"

By Associated Press Licensed Wire
San Francisco, Calif., Jan. 13.—The state had four peremptory challenges and the defense ten for use in selection of a jury, when the superior court opened here today in the second trial of Roscoe C. Arbuckle, charged with manslaughter, growing out of the death here on Sept. 9 of Virginia Rappe.

When court adjourned yesterday eleven jurors had been passed temporarily and only 11 persons remained in the original empanelment of 65. Its consideration probable a second empanelment will be necessary.

The jury in the first trial of Arbuckle disagreed. The motion picture actress died, the prosecution contends, as a result of injuries inflicted by the defendant at a party in his room in a hotel here on Sept. 5.

faces problems far beyond those of her forbears. She herself must be a much more competent person, combining in one individual the duties of nurse, cook, teacher and moral instructor. It is no wonder that many conscientious women break under the strain, and that others drag out a miserable existence, always tired, and yet unable to take a day's vacation. Such women will find themselves benefited and their burdens made easier by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was made for suffering women, and does not fail to relieve them.—Adv.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

West First street is now in excellent condition due to the efforts of the property owners of West First St. without expense to the city. The good work will all be undone by spring if the owners of race horses keep using it for a public race track every day. In the spring of 1921 it was an every day occurrence to dig a grocer truck or taxi cab out of the mud. Everyone knows this is true. Doesn't it seem as though some other

Chicago Man Feels Every Bit As Strong As He Did Twenty Years Ago, He Says.

"Since taking Tanlac I feel every bit as strong, energetic and full of life as I did twenty years ago, and my work is a pleasure to me, for even long hours on a rush contract do not tire me out," was the statement made by Edward C. Bane, well known painter and decorator, living at 124 South Honore St., Chicago.

"Some two years ago I noticed my old vim and vigor was gradually slipping away from me. My appetite had dwindled, and I was suffering from throbbing headaches, pains in the back and my stomach was so disordered that even the sight of food would nauseate me. I got to where I couldn't sleep well, and I felt sure that if I didn't get hold of a good tonic of some kind right away I would have a complete breakdown.

"Fortunately, Tanlac proved to be just what I needed. I've taken four bottles of the medicine now and am feeling just like a man made over again. My appetite is simply great, I never have a bit of trouble digesting my food, and I sleep well every night. I don't know of any better way to help people suffering like I was than to get them to take Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Dixon by Thomas Sullivan and the leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

BEYOND THE CURTAIN

A wild fox was turned loose in the heart of New York City's most congested district.

It was the scheme of a fur company's press agent, seeking free advertising by the circus method of doing the unusual.

But the fox, terrified at the roar and confusion of traffic, covered against the side of a building. Its exploiter poked it out with sticks.
The fox trembled with fear.

It didn't run. No place to run to.
Finally it tried to cross 42nd street.
A limousine ran it down, broke a leg.

The press agent is getting free advertising. But not the kind he wanted. The Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals goes after him with a John Doe warrant.

If we could return to Dixon 1000 years hence everything would be so changed that we'd be as terrified as the fox.

People of the year 2022 will be as superior to us, in their invention and construction as we of 1922 are superior to the fox.

Man is just beginning to emerge from the animal state. Real civilization has barely begun.

The fox is a cunning and capable animal in his natural habitat, the woods. In New York City, he's lost.
So with individuals.

About 650 years ago a sorcerer named Albertus Magnus, after 30 years' work, unveiled a mechanical brass man in the Rhineland city, Cologne.

Ancient writers recorded that this brass man could even talk. Talked so incessantly, in fact, that Thomas Aquinas wearied of its chatter and knocked its head off with his staff.

"Thus perished a demon," the historians wrote.

In 1922 we call such mechanical talkers phonographs, and only savages are awed by them.

Albertus Magnus lived 650 years ahead of his time. He showed the foxes of his day a glimpse of New York.

If George Washington could come back and see the auto, flying machine and wireless telephone, he'd think he'd gone crazy.

It's a good thing, for the sanity of man, that progress doesn't come too rapidly. The witchcraft of one generation is the scientific accomplishment of the next.

THE AIR PIONEERS

Twelve hundred Americans now have their own airplanes, says the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.

The figure is for civilian fliers. It does not include aviators on the government payroll.

During 1921, these 1200 civilian air pioneers flew a total of more than 6,500,000 miles and carried 275,000 passengers.

This means that if you had your own flying machine you could get out of it about 5417 miles a year and give rides to 230 friends a year, on the average.

Experts estimate that flying by civilians gained a fifth last year.

In the long run, the history of humanity may select that as the most important progress made by Americans in 1921.

Conquest of the air made rapid strides last year. American fliers broke many records during 1921.

Uncle Sam's air mail force increased its average efficiency to about 90 per cent. It now is recognized as a model the world over. Two-day mail service across the continent!

Flying forest rangers discovered 833 forest fires during the year.

Late in 1921, Stinson and Bertaud broke the endurance record by remaining in the air 26 hours 19 minutes 35 seconds.

Another record broken in America during 1921 was by Lieut. J. A. Macready, who in September reached an altitude of more than 37,800 feet above Dayton, O.

Successful parachute drops from a height of 25,000 feet were made during 1921.

We look on these as achievements.
So they are. But the achievement of today is the commonplace of tomorrow.

The first airplanes were looked on as county-fair curiosities. But they were the first steam railroad locomotives, which burned cord-wood for fuel and had side-brakes like a stage coach.

Few of us fully realize the tremendous strides that have been made by airplane flying.

It is only a matter of a few years until flying will be as safe as traveling on the ground.

The great flying feats of America's air pioneers are paving the way for safe, cheap and phenomenally rapid flying by the average American, now riding in street cars or autos.

And it's an American invention!

ARCTIC VEGETATION

If all the books written about the Arctic regions in the past were true, and the only vegetation prevailing there were mosses and lichens, then the north would indeed be a barren waste. The old text books, however, appear to have been written with little observation or imagination. Explorers today are proving the incompleteness of their reports.

Vilhelmur Stefansson, in a series of articles in World's Work, has been revealing some of the things he has learned in his years within the Arctic Circle.

There are some of the finest grazing lands in the world in those supposedly barren wastes. Furthermore, these grass lands include the most northerly islands of Canada. Even there the vegetation is "typically polar" only in part. There are many common plants such as blue grass, timothy, goldenrod, dandelion, blue-bell, poppy, primrose and anemone.
Ellsmere Island, the most northerly of the Canadian group, has more than 115 known species of flowering plants. Botanists are discovering more right along. One authority states that in the polar regions in general "there are more than 332 varieties of mosses, 250 varieties of lichens, 28 varieties of ferns, and more than 762 varieties of flowering plants—more than of the mosses and lichens put together."

The north, its explorers say, will solve in large part the problem of feeding the world in coming years.
The same things which have been found true in Canada and our own Alaska are also true of Arctic Siberia.
The possibilities which await only the proper development and use of these regions are beyond computation.

WHISKY WEANING PAINS

Prohibition Commissioner Haynes declares that the howls against the dry laws are "whisky weaning pains" from which the public will soon recover. But no mere spanking by mother will hasten the weaning. Give every person who breaks the law by selling booze a real penalty. The treatment administered by Magistrate Gustafson Saturday to Mortier, law-breaker, was a good start in the right direction. He was ordered to close his allegedly "soft"-drink parlor pending filing of a bond in the sum of $1000 to insure good behavior hereafter. He found a bondsman, but when the man had the obligation explained to him he withdrew his signature. He came to the conclusion that he couldn't depend on Mortier to obey the law, and that he would lose his thousand dollars if Mortier continued to sell booze.

This affords a reasonable warning to others. The next step is not unlikely to be final revocation of the privilege of staying in business, bond or no bond, if there is persistence in defying the law.

GROWTH

Up to the age of 6, boys average only a pound heavier than girls, and about a half inch taller. This is shown in a survey by the federal children's bureau.

The tallest and heaviest children are in California. That's one of the mysteries of climate.

The two sexes have on even start, up to 6 years. In maturity, difference in height and weight usually is attributed to sex. It may be largely due to difference in environment.

Women, entering business and pursuing outdoor sports more than formerly, unquestionably, are becoming taller.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

I will be glad and rejoice in Thy mercy; for Thou hast known my soul in adversities Psalm 31:7.

To love someone more dearly every day,
To help a wandering child to find the way,
To ponder o'er a noble deed and pray,
And smile when evening comes—
This is my task.

—Maud Luise Ray.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Berton Braley's Daily Poem
This Way Up

There was Alexander, once,
Who was always doing stunts Which the pessimists declared he couldn't do;
But he waded them all aside
And he wouldn't be denied
And he dreamed a lot of dreams and made 'em true;
In his brain ambition swirled
And he said, "I want the world, I would rule the map and all the towns that dot it!"
Well, he wanted it enough
And he had the proper stuff
So he got it!

Chris Columbus had a scheme
Which they called a silly dream,
For he thought that he could prove the world was round,
And although the wise ones laughed,
Chris embarked upon his craft
And he sailed across the ocean, westward bound;

Others may have had the hunch
But they lacked the vim and punch Which taught Chris to grab his chance while he could spot it,
For he wanted it enough
And he had the proper stuff,
So he got it!

That's the secret, that's the dope
For the man who tries to cope
With the busy world about him.
He can gain
Almost anything he wants
If the Will-to-Get-It haunts
Every fibre of his body and his brain;
If you know what you desire
And you simply never tire
Of the grinding and the toil as you beset it,
If you want it had enough,
And you have the proper stuff
You can get it!

BREAKFAST
Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

While in most households, breakfast is considered the least important meal and is in many instances snatched hurriedly, it is really the most important meal. Breakfast is the foundation meal which gives the power to start a good day's work.

It is almost unnecessary to warn about neglecting to eat breakfast, for most people know that this lowers their bodily resistance and gives infectious disease germs the chance they are waiting for.

The trouble with many people is that their appetite is particularly finicky at breakfast time, and a good housewife will be especially careful in her selection of foods for this meal.

The tendency of late years has been to get away from the hearty breakfast. Such a breakfast is all right for the farmer or the hired man or anyone engaged all day in hard manual labor, but the average office or factory man can do more and better work when the stomach is not overloaded.

Fruit, a cereal, salt meat or fish,
eggs, hot bread, pancakes or waffles, and coffee—six dishes in all—comprise a breakfast hearty enough for any hired man. One or two of these dishes are light enough, too, for any devotes of the "no breakfast" fad.

It is a poor breakfast, however,
where fruit or cereal are omitted.
There are many attractive ways of combining fruit and cereal that are gaining in popularity.

Any late cookbook will have any number of novel dishes to tempt the finicky breakfast appetite.

EVERETT TRUE

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
A QUAREL

"Now tell me what the trouble is," said the Fairy Queen.

"Now tell me what the trouble is about," said the Fairy Queen to the two battered looking kites.

Nancy, Nick and Buskins had taken seats in the front row of the court room and they could hear and see everything that went on.

"They have been fighting again, your highness," said the policeman, kite, coming forward and making a stiff bow. "It's the old trouble again. They've been jealous of each other these hundred years and they are getting worse instead of better."

The Fairy Queen turned her kind eyes reprovingly on the offenders.

"Tut, tut, tut," she said. "This will never do! Aren't you both ashamed of yourselves! I keep this part of my kingdom the Land-of-Ups-In-The-Air, just to make you happy and here you are acting like sillies."

"Dear only knows, when you kites got away from the strings 'n' things that tie you to earth, you make a bee-line for the sky as quick as you know how. Why do you come if you cannot be happy?" she asked severely.

"I would be happy if it wasn't for this fellow," said the first kite. "He knows I am the most important, but he won't say so."

"Why I've been written about in all the history books down on the earth and the children study about me."

"I'm the kite that carried the cord that pulled the rope that drew the cable that started the bridge—"

"Oh, goodness!" cried the second kite, "we've heard it a million times!"

Then he turned to the Fairy Queen.

"As for me, your majesty, I am Benjamin Franklin's silk kite," he said. "I went up into the clouds during a storm and discovered electric-ity!"

And he held himself so straight that he nearly fell over backwards.

The Twins wondered how the Fairy Queen was going to decide the question. But Buskins said to wait.

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

CHAPTER LXII—RUMORS BEGIN TO SPREAD ABOUT ME

If my good looks were spoiled, I would release Cissy Sheldon—rather I would have to send him my refusal.

That was obvious. I did not put in a very comfortable night. I kept telling myself that my career was ruined. I felt forlorn and forsaken. Cissy would not want to marry me.

And then I dreamed and called on Dick in my dream, only I called him by his name.

"Jimmy! Jimmy! You'll take care of me, Jimmy, if I need you? You always have, Jimmy!"

And then Jimmy Alcott put both arms around me, and the moon shone by the spring and my own soft purring Smilodon watched us from the bough of the apple tree—but I could not see the moon, nor Jimmy, for I was blind!

Weighted with wretchedness I wakened to find Motherdear standing over me.

"I've been acting in my sleep, Motherdear," I explained.

Out of that midnight confusion, I evolved a plan. Motherdear approved, and agreed to cooperate. Motherdear has a more romantic nature than I.

Meanwhile the doleful bulletins—all too true—were issued from my sickroom. Pitiful rumors spread. The company returned from Broadway, heard the stories, and letters and tokens of sympathy poured in.

Nandy did his duty like a Trojan. Of course the attack of the leopard upon the little movie wonder, May Scott, had proved for him what he called "pie."

One camera man had cranked until I was carried out of the nets. This exciting news item had been sold in every city of the country.

Nandy was a splendid publicity man. He was very careful not to release to the company any pictures which would indicate that my beauty had been destroyed.

But he could not hinder certain stories from circulating in the studios:

May Scott had been blinded in one eye.

May had lost her left ear.

If May ever acted again, she would have to keep her right cheek towards the cameras.

To Rose, to Ginette, to Coleridge, even to Mc Masters and Demaison, these rumors spread.

Mc Masters could not ascertain the truth about them.

Motherdear and I did not know.

And my physician, having prescribed treatment for a week, and having warned us that only time could set things right with me, went for a vacation, went into hiding in a yacht for a week.

It was the only way he could snatch his summer rest.

Cissy besieged the place but I refused to let him enter.

Motherdear and the nurse humored me and became partners in a conspiracy.

BROOKLYN FARM LOAN ASSN. SHOWED GAIN IN MEMBERS IN '21

Annual Meeting Held at Bank There; Officers Elected.

West Brooklyn.—Mr. and Mrs. Lester Mireley welcomed a baby girl to their home last week.

John Haggerman shelled and delivered his crop of corn to local market Tuesday in order to have it out of the way when he moves to the state of South Dakota.

Mrs. Margarette Schneider was pleasantly surprised Sunday evening at her home with a birthday party. The guests numbered about 20 and the evening was spent in playing cards followed by a dainty luncheon. The prize winners were as follows: Ladies and gents first, Mrs. Paul Halmaier, Louie Untz; consolation, Mildred and Walter Delhotel.

Peter Auchstetter motored up from Mendota Tuesday and spent the day with his brother, William Auchstetter. Peter informs us he will dispose of his Mendota home and will move to Los Angeles, Cal., in the near future.

George Halmaier and Jack Con-schack motored to LaSalle Tuesday and transacted business.

Mrs. Will Shap is here from Troy Grove and is spending a week visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Frank Galliseth and family.

C. H. Husk was here from Shab-bona Wednesday.

Fred Hoerner was up from Mendota Tuesday and looked after business matters pertaining to his farm south of town.

Mrs. Gladys Walter and Mrs. Kathryn Henkel were morning passengers to Paw Paw Tuesday where they spent the day having dental work done.

A. H. Parks was here from Minonk Wednesday and disposed of his share of crop rentals from his many farms in this locality.

William Freeman was here from the Joliet office of the Standard Oil Co., and gave the local station the once over.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Malach were hostesses to a large number of young friends and acquaintance at their home Sunday evening in the form of a miscellaneous shower upon Miss Stella Gehant and Joseph Maier whose marriage has been announced for the near future. The home was a lively scene of merrymaking until midnight when a fine luncheon was served. The younger folks played games while the older ones spent the time playing progressive euchre. The prize winners were as follows: Mrs. Marie Gehant, ladies' first; F. J. Morrissey, gent's first; Mrs. F. E. Walter and George Gehant were awarded consolation prizes. Before departing the guests presented the couple with many handsome and useful gifts which were highly appreciated by the recipients.

Many of our citizens motored to the Bettendorf farm sale at Sublette Tuesday.

The local National Farm Loan association held their annual meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the directors' room in the bank building. A dividend of 6 percent was declared and many interesting points brought about before the meeting. The membership now shows nineteen which is an increase of 9 over the last annual meeting, and the capital stock was increased to $20,000. The total loans completed through the association has now passed the $200,000 mark, which shows what a benefit is being derived by the farmers of this community. The officers for the ensuing year are: W. A. Halmaier, president; C. A. Jeanblanc, vice president; L. L. Gehant and George Montavon, directors; O. L. Gehant, secretary.

Oscar Ikens was in town calling on business friends Thursday.

George Dillow was over from Bradford Friday transacting business.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Henry and son, Donald, returned to their home at Malta the fore part of the week after spending a few days visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Margarette Schneider.

Mrs. Nellie Katzwinkel was an evening passenger to her home at Amboy Thursday after visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. John Erbes.

Otto Meyer returned to Dubuque on Thursday after spending his vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Meyer.

Eugene F. Henry was here from Viola Friday on business.

The young folks are preparing to give their first community party at the opera house next Tuesday evening, which will consist of dancing and card playing.

Samuel Beale is here from Springer, N. M., and is having a fine visit with old friends and neighbors. Mr. Beale was formerly manager of the tile and brick factory here and has a wide circle of friends who were glad to welcome him. Mr. Beale has reached the age of 74 years and this is his first visit back home since 1898.

The U. S. Grain Growers held a meeting at the town hall at Viola Friday evening which was largely attended and several speakers were there to address the meeting.

Miles Stevens was a business caller here from near Steward the latter part of the week.

William Galliseth is here from Sterling and is spending a week visiting at the home of his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chaon, Sr.

The many young friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kutter gathered at the home of John Fassig Thursday evening and tendered them with a good old fashioned charivari on their return after an extended honeymoon trip.

B. J. Long, together with a number of helpers harvested the ice crop for this year Monday. The ice had reached a thickness of almost ten inches and is in fine condition for storing.

Curtis E. Mireley was down from Rockford the latter part of the week visiting with friends and relatives.

Frank Delhotel was a business visitor in Dixon Saturday.

St. Mary's congregation were obliged to attend services in the school hall Sunday owing to a crack in the furnace boiler. The section has been removed and is being welded by Herman Knauer, who is an expert in that line.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Chaon gathered at their home Sunday evening and tendered them with a miscellaneous shower. Mr. and Mrs. Chaon intend taking up house-keeping for themselves in the near future and their friends bestowed their useful tokens upon them before they left the community.

Mr. and Mrs. William Parsley were here from Peterstown Saturday and visited with old friends and neighbors.

Mrs. F. D. Gehant and Josie Ziebarth spent Wednesday visiting Mrs. Jane Larkin at Welland.

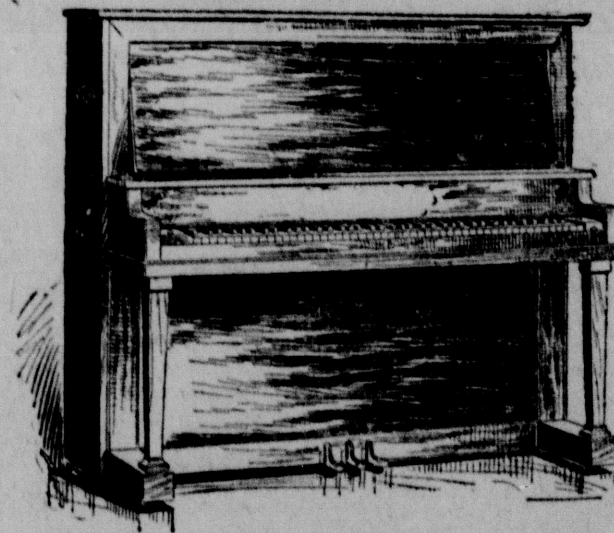

Calls Prosecution Witnesses in Case Liars By the Clock

Los Angeles, Jan. 12.—"Liars by the clock," was the phrase applied to certain prosecution witnesses yesterday, by Attorney John J. Sullivan of Seattle, Wash., who was scheduled to resume today the opening argument for the defense in the trial of Arthur C. Burch, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy.

Mr. Sullivan also contended before the jury that letters written by Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, co-defendant with Burch to Kennedy, and introduced by the state, indicated "a love which endured to the end," rather than one which turned to hate and resulted, as alleged by the prosecution, in the investigation by her of the slaying of Kennedy by Burch.

The case is expected to go to the jury either Friday night or Saturday morning.

"You'll drink?" Joe asked Bill.

The woodsman's face was grave. "Wolfpaw, it's against the law of this province to give or receive liquor from Indians," he replied gravely. "I won't drink tonight."

Pete turned with a scowl. His thought had already flashed to the white blade at his belt. "You're damn hurrucian!" he began.

But Joe shook his head, restraining him. The hour to strike had not yet come. They must enjoy their liquor first and engender fresh courage from its fire.

"Have a drink?" Joe asked Virginia.

She didn't like the tone of his voice. He was speaking with entire familiarity, and again she expected interference from Harold. Her fiancé, however, was fingering the bottle. She saw Bill straighten, ever so little, and beheld the first signs of rising anger in the set of his lips.

"No," the girl responded coldly.

The others poured themselves mighty drinks—staggering portions that more than half-emptied the first of the quart. Then they drew back their heads and drained the cups.

XXV.

"A little toast—and everybody stand up," Harold getting drunker, finally proposed.

"We're going to drink to Virginia!" To my future wife, gentlemen—the lady who's promised me her hand! Look at her there, you breeds—the most beautiful woman that ever came to the North! Drink her down!"

The burning poison poured into their throats. Virginia glanced at her pistol. Her face was no longer merely anxious. Bill still sat, helpless and blind, against the wall.

She had not dared to resent aloud the bandying of her name, the insult of their searching eyes upon her beauty.

It seemed to her that she heard a half-muttered exclamation from Bill, but his face belied it. And in reality the man's thoughts were as busy as never before.

He opened his eyes, struggling for vision. But he could not make out the forms of the men at all, except when they crossed in front of the candles.

The candles themselves were mere points of yellow between his lids.

Then men drank another round, emptying the first quart and beginning upon the second.

"You're a pretty little witch," Harold addressed Virginia. "You're hard face told her only too plainly that his eager hand had seized and secreted her pistol. Pete's face was drawn, too. Harold only looked bewildered.

He was her last hope, but in one instant's scrutiny she saw that this had vanished, too. Some terrible thought had sobered and engrossed him.

"What is it, Virginia?" Bill asked.

"One of these men—" she answered brokenly—"has taken my pistol. I want him to give it back."

Joe spoke then, a single sentence in the vernacular for Harold's ears. With one gesture he indicated Harold, himself and Pete in turn, then pointed to the girl. His face was hideous with eagerness.

Harold started at the words. His degeneracy was complete. He answered with a curse.

"Why not?" he said. "The girl's thrown me over. When I'm through you can do what you want. And crack the skull of that mole with the pick and throw him out in the snow."

The two Indians lurched forward at his words. Bill left his chair in a mighty leap.

XXVI.

When Bill sprang forward to intercept the attack upon the girl he came with amazing accuracy and power.

By means of his acute ear he had located the exact position of every actor to the impending drama.

What was more important he knew the location of both candles. He dashed them both out.

The act had been so swift and unexpected that neither Joe, standing nearest the girl, or Harold across the room could draw their pistols and fire.

Seemingly in a flash the darkness was upon them. Bill was face to face with his enemies in his own dark lair. The advantage of vision on which they had presumed had been in an instant removed.

HIS NECK WAS BROKEN LIKE A MATCH. THE ODDS WERE BUT TWO TO ONE.

Harold cursed in the darkness; as if in a continuation of the leap he had made to upset the candles, Bill seized Virginia in his strong arms.

He thrust her to the floor and into the angle between her bunk and the wall, the point that he instinctively realized would be easier to defend and safest from stray bullets.

Virginia's pistol was in Joe's hand by now, and he shot in Bill's direction. Two sprts of yellow fire broke for an instant the utter gloom. But there was no time for the third shot. He was the nearest of the three attackers, and Bill's outstretched muscles gave a mighty wrench.

His grasp was about Joe's chest at first, but with a great lurch he slung the man's body out far enough so that he could loop his sinewy arms about the man's knees.

Then with a terrific wrench of his mighty shoulders Bill hurled him against the wall.

His neck was broken like a match. The odds were but two to one.

Harold had taken out his own revolver now and was shooting blindly in the darkness. Tucking low, Bill leaped for him; in a moment they were grappling in each other's arms.

Bill wrenched him back and forth, and in an instant would have crushed the life out of him if it hadn't been for the interference of Pete.

The latter breed leaped on his back, and Bill had to neglect Harold an instant to stretch up his arms and hurl Pete to the floor.

They were both powerful men, the breed and Harold; and Bill was like a wild beast.

In the instant that he was free from Bill's arms and he knew that his confederate was out of range, Harold fired blindly with his pistol.

Their bodies crashed against the wall, broke the furniture into kindling at their feet; they snarled their hatred and their curses.

Bill fought like a giant, a might of battle upon him never known before. But steadily Harold and Pete were learning to work together.

Once a lucky blow sent Pete spinning to the floor, and Bill's strong arms hurled Harold after him.

All three contestants seemed to sweep to the fray with added fury. They clinched, staggered, reeled, then crashed to the floor.

Then—above the sound of their writhing bodies—Virginia heard Pete exclaim.

"Hold him—just a second!" Pete cried. The breed had remembered his

CITES REVIVALS IN OLD TESTAMENT TIME AS PROOF OF PURPOSE

Evangelist at Franklin Grove Stirring Big Congregations.

(Contributed.)

Franklin Grove.—The revival conducted by Rev. J. Edwin Jarboe and wife, of Lincoln, Neb., began Sunday morning with good interest and attendance, indicating that a great spiritual awakening is about to take place in this community. The evangelist's initial sermons strongly emphasized the need of revivals, and the necessity of everybody contributing their part. "Soul winning is the biggest business on God's earth and until we have the attitude of David, as expressed in the fifty-first Psalm, when he prayed for a clean heart and a willing spirit, we cannot expect to bring souls home to God.

"Some seem to think that revivals are not scriptural, but I am sure that such a person is not acquainted with God's method of dealing with his people. We see a great religious movement in the time of Moses—a revival if you please—another in Elijah's day and also one in the days of Nehemiah. In the New Testament we find a record of many revivals during the past 19 centuries, that it seemed that every professing person would be ready to assist instead of finding fault. Any one can find fault but it takes real manhood to live the Christ life.

"Some say revivals bring undue excitement. Now excitement is a good thing if of the right kind. People are so intensely excited about other things it is difficult to get them interested about their souls salvation. Some people go to a ball game or horse race and yell themselves hoarse and think it is all right, but let some one shout Amen or Hallelujah in a revival meeting they say it's too much excitement. Do you think they had any excitement on the day of Pentecost when 3,000 were converted? Some say it's not right because it is out of the regular order. I would to God that some things would get out of the regular order. The only difference between a grave and a rug is that the grave is a little deeper, but both accomplish the same purpose.

"When can we expect a revival? Listen! When God's business has its rightful place—first, when you folks confess your own sins rather than talk so much of the sins of others. When we get in real earnest and show to the world we mean business and get on fire for God.

"When we say, 'Here God am I, send and use me' rather than expect the evangelist or other people to do it.

The hardest job in a revival is not the preaching but giving in a tactful, practical way that warm personal touch. Personal work has been God's method of winning souls in the past and always will remain so.

"You say if I could do some big thing I would do it, but the little things I can do are not worth while. God bless you, brother and sister, that's why God can't use you because you fold your arms and let it all for some one else to do. To phone up a neighbor, hand a bill to a friend, say a good word for the meeting seems a small thing but often is the means of starting a soul toward God. If we would see our neighbor fall helpless on the railroad track before an onrushing train and not assist him before his life was mangled beneath the wheels we would be guilty of murder, but how many are guilty of a worse thing in talking to the hour to a neighbor about worldly affairs but never mentioning a word about the salvation of his soul."

The services begin each evening at 7:15 at the Brethren church and the public is earnestly requested to attend.

Aguinaldo's Niece to Study Surgery

San Francisco, Jan. 12.—Miss Petra Aguinaldo, niece of Emilio Aguinaldo, Filipino leader, is here today on her way to Washington, D. C., to take up the study of surgery. She is a graduate nurse and has a brother in Washington. Miss Aguinaldo said her uncle had postponed a proposed visit to the United States on account of the marriage of his daughter and pressing business affairs.

MOTHER, QUICK! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS WITH "CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP"

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of a California Fig Syrup and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. It constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "CALIFORNIA" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

Thinking of Tomorrow
 Q If by some magic the curtain of the future might be drawn back and you could see life as it will be ten or twenty years from today—where would you be?

Q You know the answer. The men and women who will then have the most independence and influence in our community will be the ones who today think and plan most wisely for the tomorrows—and hold themselves ready to take advantage of every opportunity that comes.

Q Nothing will help you more, five or ten years from now, than the dollars you can save by starting today—and you can save best by getting some bank to co-operate with you. As members of the Federal Reserve Banking System we are prepared to co-operate with you in every way. Let us show you how to save and to make your money work for you.
